PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Digital Marketing Strategist who manages production marketing websites end to end: CMS administration, page and template builds, QA before release, technical SEO, and performance measurement. Five years of hands-on work in WordPress environments spanning multiple product lines and brands, including a full rebuild of an enterprise site's page template system that lifted lead form submissions roughly 30% over the following year. Comfortable owning the intake-to-launch process, writing the documentation so it holds up without me, and partnering with marketing, sales, and subject matter experts to get pages live on schedule and correct the first time.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Digital Marketing Strategist | Southwest Solutions Group, Lewisville, TX
January 2025 – Present

- Build and maintain pages across the company's WordPress site, covering several distinct product lines with their own audiences, messaging, and search intent
- Rebuilt every product page template on the site after auditing the existing content through SEMrush and Google Search Console. The old pages were walls of unstructured text on outdated layouts. Designed a reusable structure that breaks dense information into clean, scannable sections, then rolled it out across the catalog
- Serve as the intake point for page requests from marketing, sales, and product stakeholders. Scope the ask, set a realistic timeline, build it, review it with the requester, and push it live
- QA every page before release: responsive behavior across breakpoints, link and redirect integrity, form submission and CRM handoff, metadata, heading structure, and image optimization
- Implemented schema markup across rebuilt pages, improving how they appear in search results and contributing to better rankings on target keywords
- Audited the full site and found pages cannibalizing each other's keywords. Consolidated and retired redundant content, mapped redirects so nothing broke, and cleaned up the site's search footprint
- Lead form submissions increased roughly 30% over the past year following these template, content, and structural changes
- Built a custom interactive location map and state-specific landing pages with localized case studies. This directly produced new client inquiries from regions the company had no previous traction in, including Arizona, New Mexico, and Colorado
- Monitor site health and performance through Google Search Console and GA4, tracking crawl and indexation issues, Core Web Vitals, landing page performance, and form conversion, then feed what I find back into the next round of changes
- Developed the full digital presence for a new business division as the sole developer, working across several iterations with subject matter experts to build content for an audience that needed trust built first because of poor past experiences with competitors
- Write and maintain the internal documentation for how pages get built, what the templates expect, and what has to be checked before anything ships

Content Writer | BlackHawk Manufacturing Group, Fort Worth, TX
January 2023 – March 2024

- Wrote 20+ SEO-focused technical articles targeting keywords with real search volume, tracking performance through Google Analytics and adjusting the content pipeline based on what was actually ranking
- Worked inside an existing CMS and editorial workflow, publishing on a recurring schedule alongside design and product stakeholders

Co-Founder & Operations Manager | SixRock Munitions, Weatherford, TX

January 2021 – December 2024

- Co-founded an ammunition manufacturing company, built the e-commerce website on WordPress, and handled all SEO and digital marketing from the ground up
- Managed the storefront as a production site: product page builds, checkout and inventory integrations, seasonal landing pages, and the maintenance and plugin updates that kept it stable
- Grew online sales 300% over two years through ongoing on-page optimization, copy work, and internal linking

Co-Founder & Lead Web Developer | StrataLink, Fort Worth, TX

January 2020 – April 2022

- Co-founded a web development and marketing agency, building and maintaining WordPress sites for clients across healthcare, home services, and professional services
- Ran the full cycle on each engagement: requirements gathering with non-technical owners, information architecture, build, analytics setup, launch, and ongoing content and maintenance work
- Translated technical and SEO decisions into plain language for business owners and managed expectations on scope and timeline
